HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORS

Delivered by hand

You are acting for Mid Bedfordshire District Council, the Local Planning Authority responsible for the Woodside Caravan Park ("the site") at Hatch Road, Hatch, and in respect of the Housing Act 1994, and certain other relevant legislation which will be disclosed and enlarged upon at an appropriate time, as agreed between the parties.

Proceedings were compensated by your clients in the High Court against all known owners and occupiers of the Site, and also against those "unknown persons" who were owners and occupiers of the site. Your clients sought an injunction requiring the owners and occupiers who were held to be in breaches of planning control to remedy the same.

Notwithstanding the rights and obligations of the Mid Bedfordshire District Council in respect of the said planning controls, a watching brief on behalf of the "unknown persons", including both the male and female adult individuals, and of children at and below the school age, as defined under the Education Act, (referred below as those of "educational rights under the Human Rights Act), right to the security of the person, home and family.

In respect of the above, notice is hereby given that authorised MONITORS will be present to watch on and report on the activities of any members or agents, known or unknown, who participate in the activities under taken in consequence of the Injunction granted by the High Court.

The said Monitors, will be submitting written, photographic and video records of the activities of individuals, and the collective aspects of this operation.

Such material will be available as evidence, if required, to future High Court hearings and may have a bearing on the conduct and liability aspects of such proceedings and operations, as undertaken by Mid Bedfordshire Council, its employees and agents.

The Monitors, on behalf of the National Civil Rights Movement, will be watching in particular for any violations of individual, including childrens rights, as guaranteed under the Human Rights Act; and for any damages or injuries to persons or property.
